Context

In the context of the historic town centre rehabilitation programme: creation of a public lighting system to highlight and enhance remarkable edifices.

Aim of the project

The aim is to make the historic town centre even more attractive and to create night-time atmosphere.

Description of the study

Vallauris historic town centre has unusual architectural features, because its design, influenced by the Lérins Islands' monks, is based on a draughtsboard.

The lighting project highlights this unusual architecture and evokes the artists such as Picasso and Jean Marais who lived in the town.

Description of works

Earthworks related to the project were carried out at the same time as various utility maintenance works.

- 3,500 m of cables.
- 135 embedded floodlights.
- 17 accent lighting floodlights.
- 66 diode floodlights.
- 2 control cabinets.
